Apple Music is one of the most exciting new features of iOS. Find out how to make the most of it using Siri commands on page 42.

There has never been a library of knowledge as vast as the Internet. Thanks to smartphones and tablets, you can access this information anywhere. The trouble is that it's hard to constructively learn from it. Let's face it, you're never going to master French or physics from studying Wikipedia alone. Educational apps offer a neat solution because they provide nuggets of information, organized in a way that is both structured and engaging. Discover the best apps for your kids to download ahead of the new school year from page 14.

But all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, so make sure you also check out our guide to the 25 free apps every user needs from page 18 and our game reviews, including new releases Heroki and Xenowerk from page 36 onwards. Enjoy the magazine!

ROCKING OUT WITH THE MARSHALL SMARTPHONE

AUDIO SPECIALIST NEW 'LONDON' IS SMARTPHONE FOR MUSIC LOVERS

Once famous for their guitar amps, Marshall have branched out in recent years to produce Bluetooth speakers and headphones. Now the English company has launched its own smartphone dubbed the Marshall London.

As you might expect, the London is suitably rock'n'roll. It offers high-quality listening thanks to its powerful dual speakers, which feature enhanced bass technology and a dedicated hifi-grade sound card. In addition, the stereo microphone has been designed for high-quality recording on the go and offers exceptional noise reduction.

Two stereo jacks are located on the top of the phone, allowing two users to share music simultaneously and at different volume levels. A global wide equalizer allows the user to personalise music played on the phone without having to adjust the sound on each individual music app. The so-called M-button gives quick access to any music player, including the London's pre-installed music player, which supports popular formats such as MP3, MP4, AAC and many more. To ensure all music lovers are catered for, the London is also capable of crystal-clear playback of FLAC files, giving justice to old music collections.

Aside from the musical enhancements, what else does Marshall's new phone offer? Well, it seems the London is an impressive smartphone in its own right. It runs Android Lollipop, which is the latest version of the iOS rival operating system. It also has a 720p 4.7-inch screen powered by a Snapdragon 410 chip, and has 16GB storage.

Marshall developed the smartphone in partnership with Zound Industries and Finnish company Creoir.

"Zound Industries chose to work with Creoir so they could see their concept become reality without the need for the technical and manufacturing know-how for building a smartphone," said Pekka Väyrynen, CEO of Creoir. "Working with their talented people has been really inspiring and we are excited to see their Marshall London smartphone launch this August."

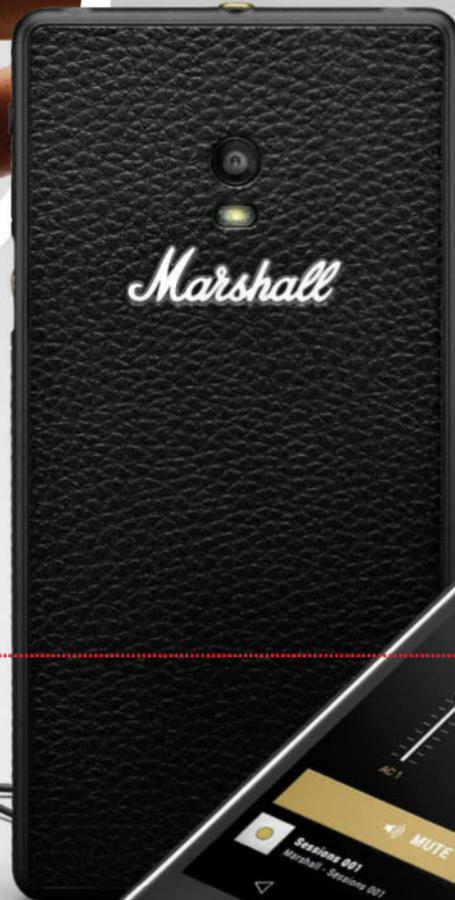

The Marshall London is available to buy now for £399/$499 from marshallheadphones.com.

MUSIC IS FOR SHARING

The Marshall London has two stereo jacks on the top so that two people can plug in and listen to music at once.

HD SCREEN

MTV killed the radio star and YouTube has made streaming music videos easier than ever, so enjoy them on the London's 720p screen.

ANDROID INSIDE

As you can guess, the Marshall London is not an iPhone, instead it runs Android Lollipop, Google's rival operating system to iOS.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

The Marshall London has two front-facing speakers for maximum audio enjoyment.

APPS TO CRANK UP TO 11

MOSHCAM

 This app makes it easy to find videos of live performances in a wide range of popular musical genres including rock, metal, indie and hip-hop. Inevitably some major artists are missing and the app has a habit of crashing intermittently but if you love live music, it will be a long time before you exhaust everything it has on its lineup.

● iPhone+ | iOS 5.0 | Free
● Android | OS 2.2 | Free

BEATWAVE

 Few apps make it as easy to compose your own electronic music as this one. Starting with a series of grids, you add beats by selecting squares. These beats are looped automatically and you can then mix things up by adding instruments and varying the position of the squares or the speed, pitch, volume and style while recording the results.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | Freemium

THIS DAY IN MUSIC

 This app is packed with trivia that will give music aficionados something to reminisce about. For every day of the year This Day In Music has brief descriptions of major events in music history, some dating back to the 1950s. You can also look up which musicians share your birthday and browse music trivia before testing your knowledge in a quiz.

● iPhone+ | iOS 3.1 | £2.29/$2.99

JAMN PLAYER

 This stylish and easy-to-navigate free download will teach you how to play whatever songs you have in your music library as well as other popular tracks on a guitar, ukulele or piano. Jamn Player analyses any song that you select and displays the chords and key in real time as the track is playing. Playback can be at full speed or slowed down in case you find it hard to keep up.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.1 | Free

MORE THAN JUST MUSIC

Tim Grimsditch, Spotify's head of global product marketing, explains how the streaming service's new features are taking the fight to Apple

With more than 75 million active users, 20 million of which are paid subscribers, Spotify has not only successfully introduced many to the delights of streaming music, it has encouraged them to pay for the pleasure too. But with Apple Music making in-roads, how is Spotify looking to make its offering sing loudest?

How has the Spotify evolved and what do you think works well?

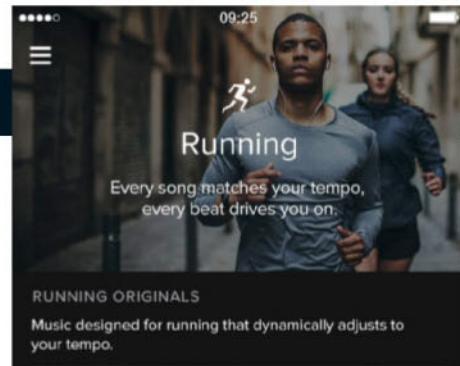

With more than 25 billion listening hours since our launch seven years ago, we've become obsessed with figuring out how to bring music into every part of our users' lives, wherever they are, whatever they're doing, whatever their mood. Using this data, we're now able to offer our users the right music for every moment - on computers, mobiles, tablets, home entertainment systems, cars, gaming consoles and more.

Can there be improvements and do you have any in mind?

We're constantly evolving Spotify to make it the best music service it can be. We recently launched Discover Weekly, a personalised playlist for all users, based on what you listen to and what people with similar tastes listen to, which updates every Monday morning with another batch of two hours' worth of brand new music. We're rolling out an evolved Spotify to provide a 24-hour entertainment destination, including Spotify Running, as well as adding video clips and audio shows.

We must mention Apple Music. Is competition welcomed?

The addition of other streaming services means more education about streaming and a boost to the streaming music industry - which doesn't have to be at the expense of Spotify. If streaming starts growing faster, the music industry will be many times bigger. The growth of streaming services is a positive for artists and rightsholders, and signals the end of piracy, which we welcome entirely.

Spotify's new Running feature can match music to your steps

How is Spotify keeping ahead of the game?

Spotify is becoming more than music. We know there are times in the day you want to switch between music to catch up on the latest news, listen to your favourite podcast or simply watch something fun. So we are rolling out other content for different moments of your day, alongside music and curated playlists, to keep you entertained wherever and whenever you are. We also know that millions of our users lace up and hit the road to Spotify, which is why we introduced the Running feature. Spotify can now detect your tempo, matching the perfect music in time to your step, to help improve your motivation and your run effectiveness.

Do you think streaming will come to dominate and that purchasing songs will become niche?

We can't speak on behalf of how individuals will choose to consume music going forward, but what we have seen is that IFPI figures show digital music has matched and will likely soon surpass physical formats in the money it generates, which is largely fueled by streaming.

There has been controversy from artists regarding payments. Is this fair?

It's important to note that Spotify does not pay artists directly but instead pays the labels, collecting societies and publishers who own the rights to the artist's music. Once Spotify has paid those royalties the rights holders are responsible for paying royalties to the artist. This takes into account the individual commercial deal the artist has with their label and publisher. Spotify aims to help artists get paid fairly for their work, and we are as transparent as possible in sharing the revenues we pay out.

"WE AIM TO HELP ARTISTS GET PAID FAIRLY FOR THEIR WORK, AND WE ARE AS TRANSPARENT AS POSSIBLE"

05 OTHER GREAT STREAMING SERVICES

APPLE MUSIC

As well as allowing you to stream songs from your device, Apple Music offers the excellent Beats 1 24-hour radio station which is curated by top DJs.
● iPhone+ | iOS 8.4 | Freemium | v1.0

A great app if you're into discovering independent artists. Also includes podcasts, comedy and news.
● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | Free | v3.10.1
● Android | Varies | Free | Varies

TIDAL

With greater bandwidth comes the ability to stream curated songs in high fidelity sound quality.
● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | Freemium | v1.7.0
● Android | OS 4.1 | Free | v1.6.3

HOW TO... WRITE A SONG

WITH MUSIC-MAKING APPS IT'S EASY TO GET YOUR GROOVE ON

The rise of streaming music services and the social media revolution have made it simpler than ever to discover songs by as-yet-unknown artists. Anyone can put their tracks in the ears of the masses through YouTube, SoundCloud and other online outlets. Mobile devices have made this process more accessible still and allowed many indie artists to find an audience. All you need is a way with words, some musical talent and the right apps.

01 Name that tune

Song ideas come when you least expect them. Download Songwriter's Pad so you can capture lyrics on-the-fly. Tap the + sign to create a song and name it. Then tap +Block and choose whether you're writing a verse or the chorus.

02 Find your voice

Tap Ideas on Songwriter Pad's composing screen to search for words or phrases based on mood. Select Audio if you're ready to record someone singing your lyrics. When you're ready to print, e-mail or save them to Dropbox, choose Export.

03 Strike a chord

Simple Songwriter will help you get your lyrics in tune. Tap different combinations of major, minor and extra chords to find something that works for your song. With the full version of the app you can save chords and record vocals.

04 Cue music

GarageBand is a great music-making app for pros and novices because it's easy to use. Swipe to choose an instrument. Then tap on the down arrow in the top left to bring up a menu. Pick the option at the bottom to refine your selection.

05 Mix it up

To record a track, tap the red dot at the top of the screen. When you've got something you like, tap the square icon near the top left to go to the editing screen. From there you can add loops and mix in other virtual instruments.

06 Hit the charts

Once your recording is ready to share, tap Select in GarageBand's My Songs screen, pick your song and tap the Share icon in the top left corner. Select SoundCloud or YouTube, log in to your chosen service and make your song public.

APPS USED

SONGWRITER'S PAD

This app has helpful tools for novice and professional songwriters.
 • iPhone | iOS 7.0 | £7.99/$9.99 | v5.4
 • Android | OS 2.2 | £3.22/$4.99 | v1.0

SIMPLE SONGWRITER

Picking chords and keys for your song is easy with this app but you'll be lost if you don't know what these terms mean.
 • iPhone | iOS 5.1 | £3.99/$4.99 | v2.2

GARAGEBAND

There are other virtual instrument apps but this one hits the right note with its simplicity and great OS X companion.
 • iPhone+ | iOS 8.4 | £3.99/$4.99 | v2.0.7

FINAL THOUGHT

It's fun to dabble with songwriting apps even if you've never written lyrics. That's also true for apps designed for composing tunes but if you're unfamiliar with chords and keys, this step will be more challenging. If you know how to string two notes together, making music has never been easier.

COMPETITION

WIN! HOME CINEMA FOR YOUR iPhone

HEAT UP THE POPCORN! STREAM A MOVIE MARATHON WITH THE SMART PHONE PROJECTOR

While smartphone screens have gotten an awful lot bigger lately, the iPhone 6's 4.7-inch display still isn't quite big enough to enjoy watching our favourite films. However, the incredibly clever and compact Smart Phone Projector will cast your iPhone's screen onto the wall so you and all your friends can watch movies the way they were intended.

Available from Prezzybox.com for just £15.95, simply press play on your iPhone or Android phone, place it inside the Smart Phone Projector – and voilà, home cinema here we come! The magnifying glass inside the device projects the image eight times the size of your usual phone screen to ensure a much better viewing experience. The whole process is completely wireless, though the projector does leave space for you to plug in speakers for better surround sound if you so wish.

The Smart Phone Projector is made from a strong cardboard. This box can be built up in minutes and has an extendible drawer function that can close, meaning that you can take it to a friends' house for a movie night too.

Thanks to Prezzybox.com, we have four Smart Phone Projectors to give away. For your chance to win one, head to our website and answer the following question.

THE CYCLIST

APPS THAT MAKE GETTING AROUND AS EASY AS RIDING A BIKE

Whether you ride around town, through country lanes or over the side of a mountain, cycling gives you a great workout and time to appreciate the beauty of your surroundings. You'll get the most out of pedal power if you plan your trips, keep your bike in top condition and track how much all that cycling keeps you healthy. Luckily, apps can do all these tasks. Here are 10 that will ensure that you're always in the right gear when it's time to hop on your bike.

SANTANDER CYCLES

ALTERNATIVE TO: PASSBOOK

If you are cycle touring in London, use this official Transport for London app to find docking stations with available bikes and have a code sent to your phone that will unlock your ride if you arrive within 10 minutes.

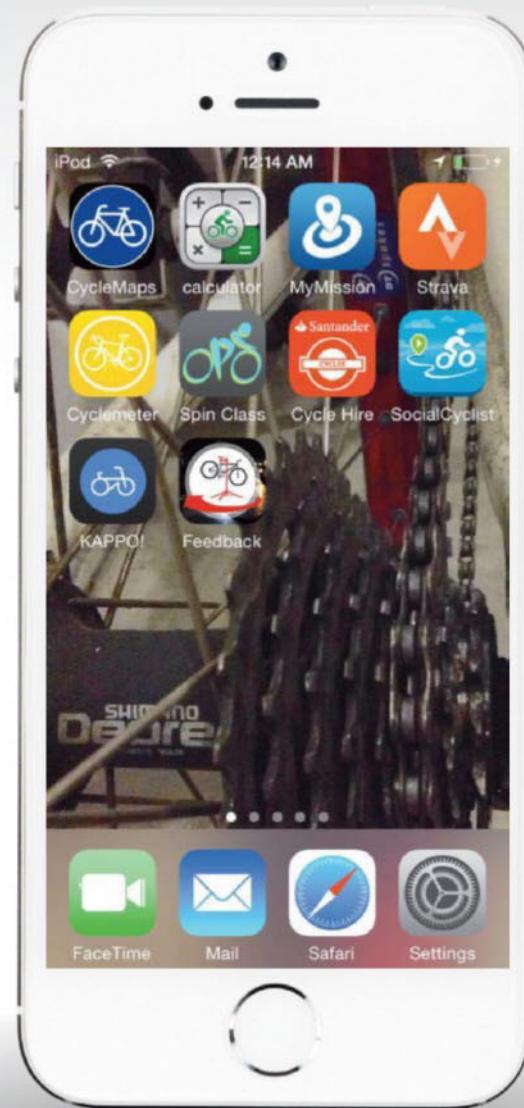

● iPhone | iOS 7.0 | Free | v3.95
● Android | OS 4.0 | Free | v4.3

KAPPO

ALTERNATIVE TO: GAME CENTRE

Make your rides more competitive by signing up for this online virtual game, which gives you points based on factors such as time, speed and weather conditions. Compare achievements too.

● Android | OS 2.3.3 | Free | v1.0.2

STRAVA RUNNING AND CYCLING

ALTERNATIVE TO: CONTACTS

Like a Facebook for cyclists, this app allows you to share your rides with the Strava community, attract followers and follow others.

● iPhone | iOS 7.0 | Freemium | v4.5
● Android | OS 4.0 | Freemium | v4.5.1

MY VIRTUAL MISSION

ALTERNATIVE TO: CALENDAR

Don't have time to ride long distances? No problem: with this app you map out the route you would take and plan local rides that add up to the same distance.

● iPhone | iOS 6.1 | Free | v2.2.1
● Android | OS 2.3 | Free | v2.2.1

CYCLEMAPS

ALTERNATIVE TO: MAPS

Plenty of cycling apps have GPS and mapping capabilities. This particular app stands out because it can direct you along bicycle paths and quieter roads whenever possible. There is also a Cyclemaps companion app for the Apple Watch.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | Freemium | v19.4

BIKE
CALCULATOR PRO

ALTERNATIVE TO: CALCULATOR

This app gives you every health-related cycling statistic you could want. Plug in data such as distance, temperature, gradient, wind speed and posture and it shows your power consumption and much more.

● iPhone | iOS 5.0 | £2.29/$2.99 | v1.0

“BIKE CALCULATOR PRO GIVES YOU EVERY HEALTH-RELATED CYCLING STATISTIC YOU COULD POSSIBLY WANT”

CYCLEMETER GPS

ALTERNATIVE TO: HEALTH

Despite the title, this app is a fitness companion for cyclists and runners rather than a mapping aid. You can set up training plans, track ride and health data and review summary statistics from your two-wheeled workouts.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | Freemium | v10.4.5

SOCIAL CYCLIST

ALTERNATIVE TO: MESSAGES

Like Strava, this app is designed for social networking before and after rides. What it's also great for, though, is sharing alerts about hazards on your route as you encounter them.

● iPhone | iOS 6.0 | Free | v1.23
● Android | OS 2.3.3 | Free | v1.23

SPINNING CLASS
WORKOUT MUSIC

ALTERNATIVE TO: MUSIC

When getting fit for a long ride on an indoor bike, plug in your earphones and pump up the music in this app to get the pedals moving. It offers curated streams in various genres

TRACKER

ALTERNATIVE TO: REMINDERS

Use this app to record maintenance you've done on your bicycle.

● iPhone | iOS 7.0 | Free | v1.3
● Android | OS 4.0 | Free | v1.0.2

GEAR ROUNDUP

WATCHSTAND CHARGING DOCK

Designed for the ultimate Apple fanboy, the WatchStand lets you proudly display all of your most expensive Apple products at once - while, you know, charging them. The Apple Watch sits proudly on top of the device, while your iPhone can fit snugly in the cradle below. The device functions well enough, and the titled view angle was a nice touch, but it's impossible to escape the notion that it's a somewhat unnecessary vanity item.

Price (£24.99/$29.99) | Griffin | griffintechnology.comFUGOO STYLE BLUETOOTH SPEAKER

Okay, it's official: good things don't always have to come in big sizes. The Fugoo Style might be a fairly small and lightweight Bluetooth speaker, but it packs a surprising punch. It not only offers enough depth and volume to get through small garden gatherings and long kitchen sessions, but it also does a decent enough job during those times you just want to kick back and relax. There's a strong clarity to the sound delivered.

FIVE STAR AWARD
This has solved a critical problem for us, and will no doubt delight anybody that owns an entry level portable Apple device. Small storage space is the bane of the iPhone and iPad user, but thankfully Leef's iBridge gives you the scope to not only expand the base memory by 16GB, but also an easy way to move large files - such as movies and photos - without having to worry about messing about with iCloud, iTunes or AirDrop. It's awesome.

Price £49.99/$59.99 | Leef | leefco.comAS600BT BLUETOOTH SPLASH-PROOF IN-EAR HEADPHONES

A sturdy pair of Bluetooth headphones that you can both work up a sweat with and comfortably take in the shower has filled a gap in our lives that we didn't know we had, and is one of the biggest reasons to purchase the AS600BT's from Sony. That said, they aren't without their faults; the snug fit and cool NFC connectivity is offset somewhat by disappointing volume.

BACK TO SCHOOL APPS

CARPE APPIUM

TOP APPS TO HELP YOUR KIDS
SURVIVE THE SCHOOL YEAR

BRILLIANT.ORG

One skill that is useful in all aspects of education and which is not a natural skill for most people is the ability to problem solve those difficult questions. You have to simultaneously keep various pieces of information in your head while maintaining a view of the entire situation to come up with the correct answer, but it can take a lot of time to learn how to do this without mistakes and a lot of time to work out the problem itself. With the Brilliant.org app you get access to a huge database of questions from a variety of subjects and with some careful selections, you should be able to find examples which are truly beneficial for your coursework and exams. Even better, the layout of the app and the questions included make the entire experience fun and more engaging than you may expect. We found ourselves immersed from the very first questions we tried and over time we started to feel that the app was truly increasing our problem solving abilities. If you can find specific questions related to your subjects you will be onto a winner, but even if you don't, it will help you in a variety of important ways.

● iPhone+ | iOS 8.0 | Freemium
● Android | OS 4.0 | Freemium

CLASS TIMETABLE

There are many apps that can help you manage your timetable, but few are as simple to use and colourfully presented as this one. Adding new classes takes only seconds and you can visually split them instantly so that you always know where to go. You can even export your schedule if you purchase the pro version. Ensure that you are never late again.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | Freemium
● Android | OS 4.0 | Freemium

MANAGE YOUR MONEY

Learning to manage your money and make sound purchases is an education in itself and with Osper, under 18's can buy books and anything else using the attached debit card.

OSPER

● iPad+ | iOS 6.0 | Free
● Android | OS 4.0 | Free

Never miss a lesson again with this colourful solution

IMPROVE YOUR BRAIN

PEAK - BRAIN TRAINING

Education is not just about knowing answers, but also being able to react to situations and think quickly and logically when the moment requires such skills. Peak is an app that is designed to improve your brain in a variety of ways and it does so in a fun way that never feels like learning at all. The variety is big and the challenges are really great which means it will help you a lot.

● iPad+ | iOS 7.0 | Freemium
● Android | OS 4.0 | Freemium

SUMDOG

For younger children, Sumdog offers a collaborative environment which helps them to learn maths, reading and writing in a fun way which is gently challenging. Once a child starts playing, and yes it does feel like a game, they will quickly improve their skills and knowledge and 'want' to come back for more willingly. It is very carefully created and it does the job beautifully.

THE MINDFULNESS APP

Stress is a negative factor in many aspects of life and particularly during exams. The Mindfulness App will give you a set amount of peace each day to recharge your batteries and more importantly relax your mind. The more you use it, the more adept you will become at meditating and consequently you will be able to handle more work than you ever thought possible.

● iPhone | iOS 6.0 | £2.29/$2.99
● Android | OS 2.3.3 | £1.49/$2.33

WRITING AID

Few things waste more of your time and interrupt the artistic flow more than writer's block. When it strikes, you can be sat there for ages trying to think of your next move without success, but Writing Aid will surely help. Search using general descriptions or look for direct meanings. The comprehensiveness of the answers will impress.

GET MORE EFFICIENT

NOTEBOOKS 8

 This clever app has the potential to be the main hub for your notes, drawings and PDF files thanks to its clean and simple design. You can manage your content over multiple devices and also create files directly within the app which makes it even more flexible. If you are serious about your note-taking and organisation, you should take a long look at Notebooks 8.

● iPad+ | iOS 7.0 | £7.99 / $9.99

iPLANNER UK

 If you want to manage your schedule and timetable in finite detail, iPlanner will be the perfect solution for you. It lets you include multiple events and you will have the ability to customise every single aspect of it. Throw in a selection of useful views including year, month and day, and you will have a complete and visually perfect digital planner in your pocket.

● iPhone | iOS 7.1 | £0.79/$0.99
● Android | OS 4.0 | £1.29/$2.01

MINDNODE – DELIGHTFUL MIND MAPPING

 For many people, organisation is done best in a visual way and MindNode taps into that ethos perfectly. You can quickly build flow charts, or mind maps, and add stickers and photos for added visual appeal which should make the bigger picture much more understandable. It may have somewhat of a niche market appeal, but it has the potential to be incredibly useful.

● iPad+ | iOS 8.0 | £7.99/$9.99

OMNIFOCUS 2 FOR iPHONE

 OmniFocus 2 may be quite expensive for a mobile app, but it has the potential to start you off on a lifetime of near perfect organisation. You can set tasks and goals for all of your subjects, and everything you enter is kept in context to build a picture of what you need to get done. There is a learning curve involved, but once you have that nailed you will love it.

● iPhone | iOS 8.3 | £29.99/$39.99

MICAL - THE MISSING CALENDAR

 If you want to ensure that you get to each lesson on time and that you do not miss valuable study hours, a calendar app will prove most useful. The timely alarms, clean organisation and speed of use in mCal makes it one of the very best solutions to ensure you never miss anything important.

● iPad+ | iOS 7.0 | £1.49/$1.99

DICTIONARY.COM

Anyone who is in education needs access to an accurate and up to date dictionary, and this is where the Dictionary.com app comes in. It features more than 2,000,000 definitions and also includes a useful word of the day for easy inspiration. Translations, slideshows and spelling suggestions top off what is a complete and helpful solution, and one which will prove useful.

● iPhone | iOS 7.0 | Freemium
● Android | OS 2.3 | Freemium

PCALC - THE BEST CALCULATOR

The higher than average price of PCalc should not be seen as a reason not to buy it because of the following; it offers many different modes, is exceptionally easy to use and also deals with conversions in an instant. Add to this a useful paper tape to look back at your calculations and you have a solution which easily rivals and beats a real physical calculator. It is excellent value for money and there's even a version for the Apple Watch..

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | £7.99/$9.99

KEEP UP WITH THE NEWS

WOLFRAMALPHA

Wouldn't it be nice to know everything. Well, with WolframAlpha you can move some way closer to that dream by asking it any question you like. It actually takes some time to get used to because it is so natural to use thanks to its ability to understand naturally typed questions, photos and even your voice, but it always performs as you would want it to. You can ask a question in the most convenient way and you will receive a series of answers which should cover every possible part of the subject matter, and these answers can be text-based, simple numbers or even graphs. An emphasis has been placed on making sure that you receive complete information and once installed, you will soon wonder how you managed without it. Of course studying is not just about knowing facts, but when they are presented in such an obvious way you can retain them quickly and save a lot of time in every other aspect of your learning.

Standard search engines are very useful, but in education there surely is no better resource than WolframAlpha for getting work done.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | £2.29/$2.99
● Android | OS 2.1 | £1.86/$2.90

PHOTOMATH

The main problem with trying to get help and advice when dealing with complex expressions and calculations is that it is often very difficult to input the whole equation via a keyboard. PhotoMath gets around this by letting you simply snap and then wait for the app to analyse what is in front of it. It doesn't always work, but when it does it is a huge time saver.

EXPAND YOUR KNOWLEDGE

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC WORLD ATLAS

Understanding the locations of cities and countries around the world is beneficial for geography, history and many other subjects, and this app is a good place to start building your knowledge. It does not offer perfect detail when zoomed in, but is perfectly usable.

- iPad+ | iOS 7.0 | £1.49/$1.99

FREE BOOKS

The number of classic books included in Free Books is quite extraordinary and it could possibly keep you entertained and educated for many years to come. You can use it to analyse the writing styles of legendary authors or just to increase your sphere of reading, but either way it works as an exceptional gateway into a world of classic written works.

DUOLINGO

You will either love or hate the way languages are taught at your school, but if you fall into the latter category you should take a look at Duolingo. It is completely free, includes gradually more difficult lessons and is also highly visual in the way it trains you to learn words and phrases. It is a genuinely exceptional app in every possible way.

- iPad+ | iOS 7.0 | Free
- Android | Varies | Free

TIMES TABLES QUIZ!

For younger children and those students who struggle with multiplication, here is an app which could have a beneficial impact. The blackboard style interface is very friendly and the simplicity of the questions makes it truly accessible to anyone. Sometimes the best solutions are the ones that attempt to only do one thing in a simplistic way.

REFME - CITATIONS MADE EASY

Referencing is an important part of essay writing and in particular in an age where plagiarism is far too easy to achieve. If you can keep accurate references and show what you have learnt from them, you will be far more likely to achieve a higher mark, but the process is often very time consuming and overly complicated. You have to read the quote, reference the publication it is from and then ensure that every single detail is correct. Add to this the requirement, often, to use a particular style and the time will just drift away. With RefME, however, you can scan the barcode of the publication and then simply enter a range of page numbers and add your own notes. Each reference will be added to a list and you can share the items at any time if you need to work on my than one computer. It is not the most exciting app in the world, but it does semi-automate a task that can be terribly time consuming and for that alone it is worthy of adding to your educational armoury for when you need it.

REPLAY VIDEO EDITOR

One of first things you'll want to experiment with on your new iPhone is the brilliant camera and video recorder that comes as standard. Just load up your device's Camera app and head to the Video panel and you get some fantastic ways of recording video, such as the Slo-Mo mode, which records in a staggering 120 or 240 frames per second. There's also the Time-Lapse feature, which takes a still to a pre-defined time scale and stitches them together to create an impressive reel of eye-catching footage. To make the most of this, you'll want to get your hands on the Replay Video Editor app, which does an amazing job of inspiring you to make great movies. Everything promotes creative thinking when editing together the stuff you've shot. Once you've selected the clips that you want to edit together, Replay will apply a series of effects, music and filters to your sequence automatically and editing is done with a thumbnail view of all of your clips. Footage can be trimmed down and ordered as you like. Just don't forget to export it and share with all your friends on social networks!

● iPhone+ | iOS 8.0 | Free

Replay will add a soundtrack to your video by default

SIMPLE MACHINES BY TINYBOP

SIMPLE GAMES TO EXPLAIN SIMPLE MACHINES TO COMPLEX YOUNG MINDS

PROS/CONS

- ▲ Beautiful styling and approachable puzzles
- ▲ It helps to make learning physics enjoyable
- ▼ Setting up a profile is a - small - pain
- ▼ The "screw" game is a tad dull

During the course of human history, six simple machines have emerged which have allowed people to carry out their work. They are the lever, the wheel and axle, the inclined plane, the wedge, the pulley and the screw. Understanding the concepts and complex physics principles behind these can enlighten young minds and that is where this puzzle-based app comes in.

Below The puzzles are chosen from this simple blocky menu, quickly taking children to the games

SHOWCASE

Five ways to learn physics

01 Playing pinball

The inclined planes are used to help manoeuvre the balls to play music. The longer a spring is held, the more force it releases.

02 Pivoting bars

This feels a bit like Angry Birds but with a strong emphasis on how levers work. The fulcrum can be adjusted, testing output force.

03 Wheel and axle

This section teaches about the wheel and axle. It teaches that different wheels are useful for different situations.

04 Using pulleys

Elaborate pulley systems help to lift the heaviest objects into the air. By pulling down on the rope, input forces are applied.

05 Ice cold

The games have incentives such as seeing what happens when you drive a wedge into this ice. There are some lovely animations.

Simple Machines introduces children to the fundamentals of physics without them even knowing it by wrapping them up in a series of curious, colourful interactions which invite exploration and experimentation. It concentrates on each of the simple machines in turn, giving players a specific aim and then letting them get on with working out how to achieve it. The inclined planes, for instance, let players create music.

The app allows children to work out the different types of pulley systems and how certain ones cope with more weight than others. It's entirely educational and whether players are conducting experiments or understanding more about direction, distance and the strength of forces, they can't help but pick up vital principles.

To aid children, makers Tinybop also have printable worksheets and a handbook available and everything is integrated into the STEM curriculum. Given that it is aimed at four to six-year-olds, it will need some parental supervision: some of the puzzles may not be immediately obvious. An adult will also need to be on hand during the fiddly profile setting process and to point out the little nuances such as the sliders and the settings that allow for visual pointers and sound and vision toggling. Once children get to grips with Simple Machines, it will engross them for hours, stretching their minds in the process.

Apps Another winner from Tinybop that helps to make science a whole load more fun for curious young minds.

2000 AD FEATURING JUDGE DREDD

If you're after Judge Dredd and 2000AD comic books, look no further

THE LAW DOESN'T MAKE MISTAKES. DO APPS?

Aimed squarely at fans of the comic book series 2000AD, this store and reader app is a Judge Dredd fest, offering an incredible number of comics about the future lawman stretching back 37 years. The vast majority of the content must be paid for, with prices ranging from the cheap to the wallet-bashing. But the idea is that you will have all of your reading material in the one place and this is where the app excels.

It divides the comics up into specific sections including 2000AD, the Judge Dredd Megazine, specials and graphic novels. It also has free content although this section is sparsely populated (there are free back issues for those who subscribe to either 2000AD or the Megazine, though). Buying an issue is as simple as tapping on it to order and then waiting for it to download. Tapping Read will let you browse by swiping left and right.

If you bookmark pages they will be shown in a bookmark tab and if you want to view all of your owned content, you can do so in the account section. The biggest criticism is that there is no separate section for the items you have purchased. You need to navigate via the store and look for the downloaded icons which can make it rather messy. Judge Dredd fans will snap it up, though. He is the law, after all.

Left You can, as expected, view the comic books on your device's screen as they appear on the page

If you want to subscribe to one of the comics, this accessible app is the way to go.

RA GUIDE CAN THIS APP BE AS ELECTRIFYING AS THE MUSIC IT HELPS YOU DISCOVER?

RA Guide is the new app by the online music magazine Resident Advisor. It allows users to discover the best clubs, DJs and electronic music in your area as well as around the world and it claims to have information on a million DJs, artists, venues and events that are personalised to your taste and location.

The app certainly sings. It has bold presentation, presenting search results clearly and concisely while letting you tap to find out more. When seeking events, you can search through favourites, those close by and the most popular and you not only get to see the actual times and dates but prices and booking information (you can book through the app).

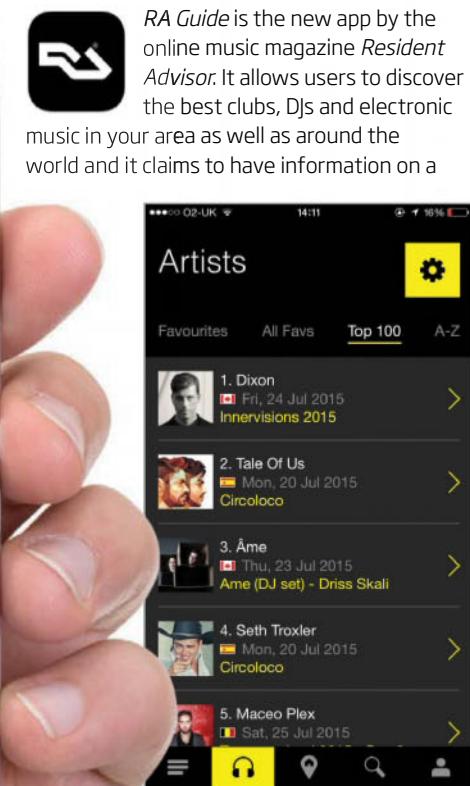

We like being able to seek out artists and add them to favourites. The entries don't contain lots of information about them but you do get to see where and when they will be appearing. You can also look for clubs in general in particular cities and see how many other people are like-minded. What's more you are able to add DJs and artists via your iTunes library, taking out a lot of the legwork involved. With recommendations and the ability to share information on social media, it is clear much work has gone into this app. Though to need to log in for some of the features is a pain.

You'll be rocking to the beat of this well-presented and useful music app.

KITCUT - VISUAL MASHUP

The social side of KitCut is well done and makes for an experience which is easy to get into and which feels welcoming from the very first second. You can create mashups of photos which are built by simply cutting out objects such as faces. The end results can be very entertaining. However, we struggled a little to create end results that felt natural and which didn't look like they had been put together in too much of a hurry. Take your time, however, and you may be surprised.

A good idea with excellent social ambitions, but the app could be improved.

● iPhone | iOS 8.0 | Free | v1.0.2

MIXRADIO

Apple Music and Spotify may be grabbing all of the headlines at the moment, but you would miss out if you did not try MixRadio. Like other services, it learns from what you listen to and some of the mixes are truly exceptional. The interface is clean, the performance is fast and it is almost perfect for anyone who loves discovering new music every single day.

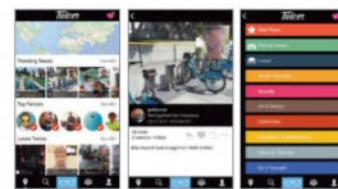

A brilliantly simple music streaming solution.

TWICER

Twicer is a neat little app that lets anyone record their voice over a video for humorous effect. And it's a system that really does work well. You can use your own videos or media from other users and it should only take a few minutes to record a fun clip to share with your friends. You will get better over time, but the network feels a little limited at this juncture. As the app becomes more popular, it could start to infiltrate the consumer social networking space, but at this time it feels like it needs a few more features to make it truly shine and stand out from the crowd.

An interesting and collaborative social media idea, but it needs some work.

STARFLOW

Social networks are now so vast and busy that it can be hard to find the stars that you are genuinely interested in. Starflow, however, will help you cut through all of the content and find your favourites in an instant thanks to its simple interface. It covers multiple networks and splits the myriad of famous people into logical categories, and doesn't really put a foot wrong. If you are really struggling to find the right people, this is an app that's well worth trying out.

Cut through the noise and follow your favourite stars online with ease.

● iPhone | iOS 7.0 | Free | v1.0

CRAYOLA DJ

Mixing apps tend to be created for adults, but here we have a clever and colourful version for kids. The extensive list of loops is impressive and so is the ability to perform, but best of all it is extremely easy for a child to understand and to use. Indeed, this is one of the most carefully thought out children's apps we have seen to date. It's very clever.

A brilliant introduction to musical creativity.

TAKE BETTER PHOTOS

UNLOCK YOUR CREATIVE POTENTIAL WITH THESE MANUAL CAMERA APPS

CAMERA+

 Another app that aims to convert your basic iPhone camera into a makeshift DSLR, Camera+ is designed to help both amateurs and professionals fall in love with taking photos on their phone. Featuring 16 scene modes, tons of professional features, and over 30 one-touch filters, if you're after a camera app that's smart, powerful, and accessible, look no further. By combining camera improvements with editing tools, Camera+ becomes a near-perfect package.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0
£2.29/$2.99 | v 6.3.1

MANUAL

 If it's clear, concise control you're after, Manual has your back. By letting you independently adjust your shutter speed, ISO, white balance, focus, and exposure compensation, Manual will ensure your photos come out just the way you want. It might not have as many features as other iOS apps, but remember: less can be more. Arguably the best at what it does, what the Manual app lacks in variety it makes up for in precision.

● iPhone+ | iOS 8.0

PROCAMERA 8

 As well as being a top-of-the-line piece of editing software, ProCamera 8 also lets you control what you capture, giving you the ability to set explicit values for exposure, ISO sensitivity, and white balance. Manual focus, a remote trigger for Apple Watch, and vividHDR round off an already impressive package. Value for money. An affordable, incredibly versatile app perfect for mobile photographers that value variety.

● iPhone+ | iOS 8.1
£3.99/$4.99 | v 6.3

VSCO CAM

 The self-proclaimed 'standard of mobile photography', VSCO Cam is a manual camera app that doubles as a social network, letting you take perfect pictures and share them through your VSCO Journal. Less of a dedicated camera app than our other entries, VSCO's lack of options is offset by slick design and a generous freemium model. A free app that's mastered the basics, VSCO Cam is ideal for entry level photographers.

● iPhone+ | iOS 8.0
Freemium | v 4.2.9
● Android | OS 4.0

PROSHOT

 You're never going to replace your DSLR with your phone, but for those times when you want to capture a fleeting moment, or even leave your hefty camera at home, ProShot's vast array of features and customisation options will ensure you can get exactly the shot you want, even if you are rocking an iPhone. Bursting with features,

 ProShot offers DSLR quality for under £3.

BUZZFEED NEWS

GOT AN INSATIABLE APPETITE FOR NEWS? THIS MAY COVER IT

BuzzFeed has been around for 11 years and, in that time, it has gained a reputation for pumping out lots of list-type articles. In 2014, a huge amount of money was injected into the company and, while many newspapers and magazines have tried to mimic its frivolous style, BuzzFeed has been going the other way: serious news is now on the agenda.

This app taps into that perfectly with a diet of hard reporting curated and - in the main, written - by its own staff. It offers a speedy catch up consisting of bullet pointed headlines as well as a run of the day's stories. Each one shows a headline, an intro and an image while giving you the ability to share or read further with a single tap.

The articles are comprehensive, often mixing reportage with Twitter, YouTube and other sources to build a rounder picture of a story. It is such use of quotes, Vines and other modern tale-telling methods that stands the app apart from most rivals but with BuzzFeed's vast experience in such areas, this is to be expected.

PROS/CONS

- ▲ It's an easy app to dip in and out of
- ▲ You can set up specific alerts
- ▼ It needs to have more categories
- ▼ A better headline overview would be nice

Below You can tailor the app so that it works the way you want it, complete with notifications

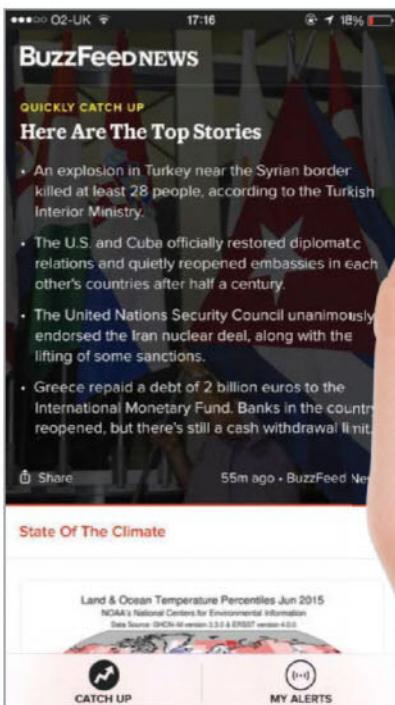

It's a shame then that, as it stands, the output is so skewed to users in the United States which could be off-putting to those in other parts of the world. Yet, even so, with a tap of My Alerts, it is possible to tailor the news to suit your taste, with the choices including major breaking and world news. You also select news relating to LBGT issues, business and technology, celebrity and entertainment and sports (big stories get their own section which is great for keeping abreast of changing situations).

This makes it an interesting app to keep handy, letting you dip in and out for briefings and reaction. A more comprehensive overview of the headlines would be nice to cut down on scrolling but the app certainly keeps its rivals on their toes.

Get notifications and solid overviews of breaking news stories written with a fresh approach.

BABBEL

STRENGTHEN YOUR LANGUAGE SKILLS

 In terms of language learning, Rosetta Stone is the top dog but it is prohibitively expensive for the majority of people. Babbel lets you get started with learning a range of languages for free, before charging you a small fee to continue your lesson.

Each language has dozens of courses covering different aspects of life, such as complete beginner, pronunciation and holiday phrases. Each course has up to 20 lessons that increase in difficulty. Only the first lesson of each course is free, with the rest hidden behind a subscription plan, so it's up to you if you want to take your language learning beyond the extreme basics.

The lessons are fairly varied and have an interactive school lesson feel to them. There

Left The feeling of being back at school is strong here

Below The conversations are useful for learning the context of words is a section where you blindly guess which multiple choice answer is correct but then you build on that knowledge by then having to put what you learnt into a conversation and even spell it out from an anagram. This does make you think fairly hard about what you're learning and, although it didn't stick as well as listening and repeating like many of us did in school, it was a lot more fun.

This could be a good product but should let you get further for free and include more situational learning.

BITTORRENT SHOOT

SIMPLE FILE SHARING BETWEEN DEVICES ON A NETWORK

 The BitTorrent brand is most often associated with music and movie downloads of dubious legality, but there's much more to the name than that. Shoot is the company's latest app, and it's completely legit – you can use it to share batches of photos or large video files with other people nearby, and the fact that it works on iOS, Android and Windows Phone means just about everyone with a smartphone or tablet can take advantage of this app.

Above The app is well-designed and straightforward

Above You only get the first three sends for free

To the app's credit, it's bright and chunky and easy to use. The act of selecting photos or videos is very straightforward, and then you're presented with a QR code that all your friends have to scan. On the downside, we weren't actually able to get a transfer to work (sending between an iOS and Android device), which suggests that there are a few bugs to iron out.

Based on the app's reviews, some users seem to be able to transfer files fine while others struggle – something to do with the configuration of the local Wi-Fi network perhaps? Whatever the cause, it's bad news for an app that's based around simplicity and ease-of-use. Another downside is you only get three sends for free, and then you have to stump up for the (admittedly quite low) in-app fee.

An impressive idea but there's lots of work for BitTorrent to do here.

ADOBE PREMIERE CLIP

ADOBE WANT TO MAKE VIDEO EDITING EASIER THAN EVER

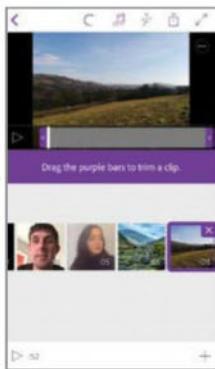

Adobe makes some pretty heavyweight creative software packages, but it's shown in the past it's not averse to throwing out some free beginner tools for the rest of us. Case in point: Adobe Premiere Clip. This fast and friendly video editor helps you get your clips looking as good as they can be without bogging you down with menus and tools.

Getting your scenes together and trimming them to the right lengths is a breeze using drag-and-drop, and if you want to get more involved you can change the lighting, drop in a transition or two or even try out a slow-motion effect. Audio can be added (either your own or something from a stock library) and then of course you get the usual sharing options. If more edits are needed you can export the footage to Premiere Pro CC on the desktop.

If that list of features sounds about all you're going to have need for, then Clip is well worth

Left You can also check out videos uploaded by other users

"The interface is slick and smooth and you can have a lot of fun playing around with short videos on the go"

Above A selection of free audio clips is at your disposal

Above There are many ways to tweak your imported clips checking out, though we'd like to see more transition and titling options. The interface is slick and smooth and you can have a lot of fun playing around with short videos on the go. Of course if you're doing something serious you're going to need a desktop editor, but Adobe seems to have found that sweet spot for mobile between complexity and ease-of-use.

One of the best lightweight video editing apps for mobile devices to appear so far.

MAPSTR

PIN YOUR FAVOURITE PLACES SO YOU CAN ALWAYS FIND YOUR WAY FROM A TO B

 Keeping track of all your favourite places and travel destinations can be tough. It's not easy to remember postcodes and it can be a nightmare trawling through your notes to find all your saved addresses. With Mapstr, not only can you locate and pin your favourite places but you can also categorise them and add in detailed notes, for example reminding you that you loved the lasagne last time you went to that particular restaurant.

The map is intuitively designed with unobtrusive icons at the top for switching between the map and your list of destinations. The menu at the left of the screen lets you select just a certain category, such as restaurants, to make your destination options easier to see and the right lets you see friends' saved destinations.

The app is bright and colourful, adding a real zest to what could be a potentially dull app. Each category is colour coded to make them easier to differentiate and the overall design is really positive.

Tapping on a saved location brings up an image of it as well as a space for writing notes. With one click you can also plan a route from your current location to the saved place or send it to a friend who's maybe a bit lost.

Above A couple of taps take you to the fastest route from A to B

This map app has everything. Note support, good design, sensible layout and an easily navigable map.

TOP 05 apps to...

TRACK YOUR FOOTSTEPS

01 PEDOMETER++

This is the simplest and most accurate step counter we have seen to date. It merely tracks steps, lets you set a goal and then export the results. It's brilliant.

● iPhone | iOS 8.0 | Freemium | v2.2.1

02 RUNKEEPER

 RunKeeper tracks much more than just your steps. From running to bike rides with audio updates and smartwatch support along the way, the feature set is impressive and complete.

● iPhone | iOS 7.0 | Freemium | v5.8
● Android | Varies | Freemium | v5.8.3

03 MOVES

 Moves tracks your daily activity in a highly visual way which becomes more informative the more you use the app. For a free solution, it covers all of the bases and you can view your routes on a map.

● iPhone | iOS 7.0 | Free | v2.6.6
● Android | OS 4.0 | Free | v1.5.9

04 NIKE+ MOVE

 Nike+ Move takes your movements and converts them into 'fuel' which is aimed at calculating your exact effort throughout each day. It can be complex to understand, but it works.

● iPhone | iOS 7.0 | Free | v1.1.2

05 WALKMETER GPS PODEMETER

 If you want to analyse your steps and other activities you complete in detail, you should try this. The feature set is huge so it may not be ideal for everyone.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | Freemium | v10.4.6

DELIVEROO

You may be tired of the countless delivery services that are popping up powered by apps. Food is a particularly popular area and with Deliveroo you now have a new option. It is only currently available in certain areas and there is a delivery charge, but the way the app is presented is impressive and the variety of establishments available should be more than enough for anyone.

If you live in the right city, it is worth checking out to enjoy the experience.

Yet another food delivery service, but it is one that does actually work.

● iPhone | iOS 8.0 | Free | v1.0.1

HEADCASTER

Headcaster is a great idea which is well implemented. You get to create public or private messages to share with friends or over social networks and in theory it lets you speak more freely because animated figures are used for the visuals instead of you. The creation process is simple and it all works as you would expect, and it could be expanded even further.

A clever and unique message creation app with the potential to do so much more.

● iPad+ | iOS 6.0 | Freemium | v1.50
● Android | OS 4.2 | Freemium | v1.50.150612

VELOCITY

If you eat out a lot, this convenient app could save you time and potentially money as well. Not only does it let you find and reserve tables at your favourite restaurants, but it also offers rewards and will even help you split the bill with friends instantly. Coverage proved to be a little hit and miss in our tests, but if it improves this could be the perfect virtual dinner guest to take with you.

A clever and complete dining app which has a huge amount of potential.

● iPhone | iOS 7.0 | Free | v2.11
● Android | OS 4.0.3 | Free | v2.064

YOVIVO!

Many of us have thousands of photos stored on more than one online photo service and this can make a collection difficult to manage. YoVivo! is a clever app which will help you get around any problems by letting you view all of your collections in one place without the app actually storing them. It is quick to use and the way it is built means that it is also very secure, so it could be the perfect solution to bring order to your ever growing photo collection.

Bring structure to your online photo accounts and get your collection in order.

● iPhone | iOS 8.0 | Free | v1.0.0

POLARR

The promise of this app is to bring professional photo editing features to your mobile device and there is no doubt that it does that. It can be a little tricky to use at first, but when you consider what it can achieve, the effort will be worthwhile. However, we feel that for a photo editing app to truly stand out, it needs to offer a huge amount of originality in a crowded market. It feels a little too familiar.

The professional editing features here inspire, but we have seen some it before.

● iPad+ | iOS 8.3 | Freemium | v1.0.4
● Android | OS 4.0.3 | Freemium | v1.0.4.2v1

MAKE MY DAY

We can't fault the quality of the content and visuals in Make My Day and the provider (Lonely Planet) is of course very well known in this area. If you are visiting one of the included cities you will gain something from it, but unfortunately there is just not enough content which makes it feel like more of an advertisement for the much more beneficial traditional books.

Great presentation and useful content, but there really is not enough of it.

● iPhone | iOS 8.0 | Freemium | v1.0.4
● Android | OS 4.0.3 | Freemium | v1.0.4.2v1

Above The task view can be tweaked to show different data

Above Streaks is a simple app you'll learn to use in seconds

STREAKS

LOG YOUR DAILY HABITS AND CHANGE YOUR LIFESTYLE

PROS/CONS

- ▲ Neat design and intuitive to use
- ▲ Cuts out most unnecessary clutter
- ▼ Six task limit can be a problem
- ▼ No historical data view

Streaks is nothing to do with washing clothes or running naked across a football pitch and everything to do with forming habits to improve your life. The 'streaks' in question are the continuous run of days where you hit your target, whatever that might be: walking a certain distance, reading part of a book, brushing your teeth and so on. You can set daily or weekly targets or somewhere in between.

Considering you could do this with just a pen and paper, Streaks needs to earn the money you're shelling out for it. It does this by making it ultra-simple to set up, track and review the habits (or streaks) you want to keep up with – you can set up your own tasks with a couple of taps on the screen, or you can choose one of the presets provided. It ties in with the Apple Health app too (if you want to import your walking achievements each day, for example).

The tasks overview screen lets you quickly see which streaks you're doing well on while the calendar provides an at-a-glance view of your progress. You can only track six streaks at once, presumably to keep the interface as uncluttered as possible, and you can turn daily reminders on or off through the settings page.

Streaks has got a lot going for it: it's very nicely designed, it's simple to use, and there's no doubt it could really make a difference if it happens to fit with the way you live and work. On the downside, the six task limit seems a bit arbitrary, and there's no opportunity to really dig deep into the data. You can only review your recent runs rather than track progress over time, for example.

If you're not already using an app or a pad of paper to do this then Streaks is definitely worthy of your consideration – just don't expect too much beyond the basics.

Streaks* is a simple idea that's executed well, but there are some minor drawbacks to it, such as the six task limit.

05 Tap and hold
Tap and hold on the appropriate task button to confirm that you've done it that day.

PDFBROWSIFY

Above You can quickly convert open sites into PDF documents

CONVERT WEBPAGES INTO PDF DOCUMENTS FOR OFFLINE READING AND ARCHIVING.

PDFBrowsify sticks to one job: converting websites into PDF files. That, and the fact it's pretty good at the task, is all you need to know. To start off with the browser itself, it's a clunky and uninspiring bit of software compared with the likes of Safari or Chrome, but its main purpose is simply to load up sites ready for PDF conversion, and this it does well. There is support for bookmarks and tabs but not much beyond that.

The all-important Convert to PDF option is given pride of place on the app menu and this part of the operation is very fast – you'll barely notice it's happening, even on larger sites. There's a very rough and ready feel though, and formatting and layout isn't always translated perfectly (some blog sites would separate posts onto individual pages while others wouldn't). It's better for converting individual articles rather than entire sites based on our round of testing.

The app includes a rudimentary file manager for your saved PDFs, a handful of settings for configuring documents and enough sharing options for you to be able to get your PDFs out to wherever they're needed. It's basic and could use some spit and polish, but PDFBrowsify does what it promises to do efficiently enough.

Rough around the edges but just about worth the price of admission in the end.

IVY BIG NUMBER CALCULATOR

A GOOGLE SIDE-PROJECT FOR KEEN MATHEMATICIANS

Google's latest official app is unlikely to become as popular as Gmail or Google Maps, but it's interesting nevertheless.

Ivy Big Number Calculator deals in advanced mathematical calculations: arbitrary floating point formatting, exact rational arithmetic, high precision irrational arithmetic, APL-like vector and matrix operations, and trigonometric, logarithmic, and exponential functions.

If that was all gibberish to you then move on, but students and maths professionals may just find Ivy invaluable. Google says it's very much a "work in progress" but if this is the sort of app you're interested in then you won't mind a bit of experimentation. You can introduce various operators and formulas Excel-style. There is documentation on the Web if you can locate the right Google Group.

From an aesthetic point of view, the app is just about as barebones as it could possibly be, especially on iOS – at least on Android you can clear the screen. It's all about the functionality and the calculations, and you don't even get a numeric keypad: you have to make do with a normal keyboard. It's also a showcase for Google's Go programming language.

About as basic as you can get – but there's a lot of power under the hood.

TOP 05 apps to...

SPEAK CHINESE

01 I LEARN CHINESE

 While this will teach you to read and write Chinese, what sets this app apart is its focus on the concepts behind the Chinese language, including a basic historical overview.

● iPhone+ | iOS 5.0
| £3.99/$4.99 | v2.2.6

02 SAYHI TRANSLATE

 SayHi is an excellent mobile interpreter. You can either speak into it with your voice or input text. You start with two languages and can freely translate between them.

● iPhone+ | iOS 6.1
| £3.99/$4.99 | v3.9.3

03 LAOKONG TONE TEST

 Chinese is a tonal language, so you will need to practise pronunciation and train your ear. This app repeats the word 'ma ma' in different tones so you can learn to identify which is which.

● iPhone+ | iOS 6.0 | Free | v2.1

04 PLECO CHINESE DICTIONARY

 As well as being able to look up by either Chinese or Latin characters, you can scan words and phrases with an optical character recogniser and text reader.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.1
| Freemium | v3.2.6
● Android | OS Varies
| Freemium | 3.2.12

05 CHINESE WRITER FOR IPAD

 Make the most of your touchscreen and learn to write 25 Chinese characters with this tutorial guide. You can register an account to unlock an extra 1,000 characters, simplified and traditional.

● iPad | iOS 4.2 | Free | v1.0

NEARDESK

Coffee shops are starting to crack down on the habit of using their free Wi-Fi for the price of one cup of coffee, so this app may be the perfect solution if you need to cut down your caffeine intake. It is also ideal if you need to meet colleagues in a hurry and have no appropriate space available. Undertake a quick search, check the rental rates and then make your booking for temporary office space. It really is that simple.

Need a desk and a generous coffee shop is not near to you? Try this service.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | Free | v1.0.1
● Android | OS 4.0.3 | Free | v1.0

SNAPT

New from Comparethemarket.com, this app can read the barcode that is printed on your paper fuel bill and then compare your usage to find you the cheapest energy provider to suit your needs. It's a clever idea and it does work, but we could not find the barcode on electronically delivered bills and the process of inputting it manually is not exactly a time consuming task. However, it's still worth a look as it could save you money.

It saves you time when comparing fuel providers, but doesn't do much else.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0 | Free | v2.0.1
● Android | OS 4.0 | Free | v1.8.8

KITCHEN TIMER

When cooking a complex meal, you will often need to consider multiple ingredients at once and cooking them to perfection can be very tricky to achieve. With this app, however, you can time anything and everything you need to concurrently and then concentrate on the actual task of cooking. We love the simplistic presentation of Kitchen Timer and the easy way it all works, and would recommend it highly to anyone who does a lot of cooking. A simple and cleverly created app solution which works on every single level.

Multiple timers presented in a near perfect way. It's time to start cooking.

● iPad+ | iOS 8.0
| £2.29/$2.99 | v1.0

INBOX BY GMAIL

Breaking the habit of managing email the traditional way is not easy, but Google is trying to help you with its Inbox app. Inbox offers you highlights, reminders and many other innovative features to help calm a busy email inbox, but it also feels very different to other tools used to deal with messages in the past. Snooze is great for when you're too busy to respond on the go. Persevere and you may well have found a new email tool.

If you want to try a new approach to email, give this original app a try.

● iPad+ | iOS 7.0 | Free | v1.3.4
● Android | OS 4.1 | Free | 1.11

NINE

We applaud the original approach this app takes to managing important tasks and for some the visual way it works may help them to complete what they need to do more efficiently. You have to take a photo, add a description and it will then be displayed in a list alongside your other items to be completed. The only problem is that it takes longer to add each entry and for many a normal text-based task manager may be just as effective.

An original and visual task management app, though it is a little slow to use.

● iPhone+ | iOS 8.0
| £0.79/$0.99 | v1.0

KLOK - TIME ZONE CONVERTER

The widget functionality in the iOS operating system has arguably not been taken advantage of as it could have been so far, but here we have an app which will greatly help those who need timezone information in a hurry. Not only does it present multiple zones in a handsome and familiar way, but one tap will offer an immediate conversion so that you can continue working as you need to. Klok is not an app for everyone, but it does offer users a useful and quick functionality.

A time-saving widget which will benefit those who have a genuine need for it.

● iPhone+ | iOS 8.0 | Free | v1.1

UP AND AWAY!

GRAB A JETPACK AND TAKE TO THE SKIES IN THESE GREAT GAMES

PILOTEER

 Playing Piloteer is akin to being punched in the face while watching your favourite stand-up comic: hilarious and painful in equal measure. The more you play Fixpoint's physics-based jetpack trickster, the more you'll struggle to understand why you keep coming back for more. It doesn't make sense, but the best things in life rarely do. Just give it a go and you'll see. Frustrating, funny, downright brilliant. Piloteer is everything you never knew you needed.

• iPad+ | iOS 5.1
£2.29/$2.99

WORMS 3

 The true sequel to Worms 2: Armageddon, Worms 3 is as absurd and as brilliant as you'd expect and hope. Designed and developed exclusively for iOS, Team 17's threequel gives you a lot of bang for your buck, combining classic weapons and gameplay modes with new customisation enhancements to satiate your thirst for some all-out worm warfare. Holy Hand Grenades, Super Sheep, and, of course, the Jetpack: gaming at its finest.

• iPhone+ | iOS 5.1.1
Freemium

KOSMO

 Imagine a vertically inclined Flappy Bird featuring a cute astronaut, fluffy clouds and deadly dirigibles, and you'll have some notion as to what the hell is going on in Cherrypick Games' self-styled 'endless hopper', Kosmo. Built around the same easy to learn but hard to master gameplay as Flappy Bird, Kosmo is a solid effort that has plenty of style, if not much substance to talk of. It's free, it's fun, and it's easy on the eye. What more do you want from a game?

• iPad+ | iOS 7.0 | Free

DOODLE JUMP RACE

 Another entry that mimics Flappy Bird's effective formula, Doodle Jump Race sees developer Lima Sky strap jetpacks on four courageous Doodlers, creating a surprisingly gripping multiplayer title that challenges players to race through the deadly canyons of Doodlandia for honour, glory, and bragging rights. The only thing spoiling the party are some pesky pop-up ads. A tip-top multiplayer, Doodle Jump Race gives our green friend a new lease of life.

• iPhone+ | iOS 6.0 | Free

JETPACK JOYRIDE

 It's got more Game of the Year awards than you can shake a stick at, a premise as ridiculous as its name suggests, and gameplay so addictive, it was actually banned in 25 countries. Okay, that last part might be a lie, but the preposterously compelling Jetpack Joyride has only gotten better with age.

You can't teach an old dog new tricks, but sometimes, you don't have too.

LEGO MINIFIGURES ONLINE

YOU WON'T BE BLOCKING ANYONE IN THIS MASSIVE MULTIPLAYER GAME

PROS/CONS

- ▲ The LEGO aesthetic will never get old
- ▲ A nice, easy-going MMO suitable for all
- ▼ Lacks the social elements you'd expect from a true MMO
- ▼ Some pretty severe (but rare) bugs and crashes

The usual LEGO game remit of destruction, reconstruction and pugilism fits the MMO template very well, it turns out – when you've got a property with as much variation as the LEGO franchise, you've got all the makings of a great MMO already programmed into your DNA. The iOS port of the game takes that accessible, understandable formula and repurposes it for tablets... and you know what? It works.

Despite some performance bugs here and there (the game can't handle more than three non-AI players without crashing), LEGO Minifigures Online operates well: because it's primarily aimed at kids, you can't communicate with other players freely – rather, you've got to rely on emojis and vague gestures. This limits how tactical you can be, sadly, but we understand why the restrictions are in place.

The gameplay itself is fairly satisfying – the initial purchase unlocks the 'Pirate' world for you to play in, and IAPs offer four more complete worlds, too. There is a difficulty curve so gentle you won't even recognise it's

"There is a difficulty curve so gentle you won't even recognise it's there"

there, and the way the game coerces you into collecting more Minifigures to add to your roster reminds us of how Pokemon drew us in with its compulsive collection suites.

The game has an auto-targeting mechanism that, whilst a little twitchy, will make playing on auto-pilot a breeze: perfect for younger players or parents that want to watch over their kids as they dive into the game themselves. That LEGO aesthetic resounds – the art style and presentation nicely disguising how little effort the game takes to run on iOS. Anyone that's had any experience whatsoever with the likes of World Of Warcraft or any other MMO will instantly feel at home here, and if not, it's a perfect way of getting kids into that kind of game without all the associated issues.

A well-presented MMO that we'd feel comfortable letting our kids play. Fun, easy to use and good value for money, despite some bugs.

ALTERNATIVELY

Explore the vast worlds of these mobile MMOs

01 WORLD OF TANKS BLITZ

With a plethora of things to do (mostly involving blowing things up), a fair free-to-play system and tanks, World Of Tanks Blitz is a great action-MMO.

● iPad+ | iOS 7.0 | Freemium | v1.011

02 ULTIMA FOREVER

Another free MMO, another accessible game with performance issues. It seems to be a trend, right? The complex morality system makes Ultima Forever stand out a bit, though.

● iPhone+ | iOS 5.0 | Freemium | v1.0

03 ORDER & CHAOS ONLINE

A game that doesn't hide its World Of Warcraft inspirations, Order & Chaos is the go-to for all hardcore MMOs.

● iPad+ | iOS 6.0 | Freemium | v2.10.0
● iPhone+ | iOS 6.0 | Freemium | v1.92
● Android | OS 2.3 | Freemium | v2.10.1

04 VENDETTA ONLINE

If you prefer your raids and guilds in space rather than in some fantasy world, then Vendetta will be more to your tastes: it's a 3D space MMORPG with thousands of players.

● iPad+ | iOS 6.0 | £0.79/$0.99 | v1.8.262

05 GROWTOPIA

A game that's more about cultivating than it is destroying, Growtopia is a 2D MMO reminiscent of Terraria. You do have to protect your items, though.

● iPad+ | iOS 5.1.1 | Freemium | v1.92
● Android | OS 2.3.3 | Freemium | v1.94

HER STORY

SEARCHING FOR VIDEOS HAS NEVER BEEN MORE ARRESTING

You may have heard of a podcast called Seria/which redefined the way crime dramas could be played out in audio. Her Story is so off-beat and unique that it could well be doing the same for detective games and adventure games. It may not look like much at first glance – you simply see the desktop of a computer running a police database – but curiosity and the right search keywords helps the narrative unravel.

The story surrounds Hannah Smith, whose husband has been found dead and whose police video interviews can be viewed on the system. All of the words spoken by Hannah are searchable so you need to listen out for potential clues and use them to delve deeper. You'll pore over the details from the nuances in the actress' voice and demeanor to the times of the interviews and you will likely jot stuff down, just as gamers used to do with a retro adventure. Since each clip is short, you find the pace picking up as your mind races to the next search word you wish to try.

It's a masterclass in storytelling that has no real logical order nor ending and it is determined purely by the way you search. It's like a jigsaw only with hunches that you want to see proved right and a woman who sends your emotions up and down. Amazing.

Apps Her Story is a captivating and realistic detective game which lets you set your own pace.

• iPhone+ | iOS 7.0
| £3.99/$4.99 | v1.1

Left All of the "action" takes place via the front end of a police database called L.O.G.I.C.

HEROKI

WITH STARK ECHOES OF MARIO, THIS GAME CERTAINLY FLIES

The power of mobile technology is so good that seeing a console quality game running on a phone or tablet shouldn't amaze us. But Heroki does just that: its fantastic Japanese-style visuals and slick presentation more than matching anything on a Nintendo machine.

"The game asks you to discover hidden objects and push buttons that will open doors in order to reach the end"

The concept of the game is simple: you make use of the propellers above the head of the cute main character Heroki to steer him through the air, collecting objects, grabbing throwable boxes and defeating enemies as you go. The game asks you to discover hidden objects and push buttons that will open doors

Above By picking up boxes, you have a handy weapon and a projectile all-in-one in order to reach the end of the levels. It also requires the solving of some fiendish puzzles, many of which rely on the new skills you pick up or environmental factors such as wind.

It proves to be great fun, initially at least. You certainly can't help but be spurred on by the jaunty music and the fast-paced action but that's not to say it isn't without its faults. Although you can choose your preferred control method, we found our podgy fingers got in the way of the action. We felt that the levels became tiresome, with a lack of variety. But for all of that, it is ambitious and it pushes the boundaries of mobile gaming. For that it must be applauded.

Impeccable level design and a character to take to your hearts, Heroki proves to be an absolute delight.

• iPhone+ | iOS 6.0 | £5.99/$7.99 | v1.0.1
bit.ly/herokiios

Above You must fly around the environment using one of the three built-in control methods

XENOWERK

GRAB YOUR WEAPONS, SWITCH OFF YOUR BRAIN AND FIRE AWAY

If there is something a mobile shoot-em-up needs other than lots of things to blast at and an environment offering enough nooks and crannies to deliver surprise after surprise, it's fluid control. Xenowerk certainly has this. With a finger on the left hand directional control and the other hovering over the multidirectional fire button, getting around this game's 50 tight levels and delivering death to the fungus-like mutants is effortless.

That means players can concentrate on the most important part, the gameplay. It has a touch of Alien Breed about it, for those who recall the Amiga classic, with a near-top down perspective and lots of monsters and goo to deal with. The game is very much a leave-your-brain-at-home affair where even death matters little thanks to the respawn option. Indeed, you just spend your time on simple objectives such as activating things and dishing out death.

But that matters little when it is so enjoyable. In ratcheting up high scores and collecting lots of coins in order to power-up, you become completely absorbed and it helps that the graphics and sound are top notch. Xenowerk never gets bogged down with cut scenes or a need to explain everything and it's all the more refreshing for it.

Not much of a challenge. It's too brainless for that. Top fun.

DIVIDE BY SHEEP

WILL COUNTING THESE SHEEP SEND YOU TO SLEEP?

 Just when you thought you'd seen it all, along comes another ingenious puzzler. It may appear to be familiar fare but beneath Divide By Sheep's glossy and cartoony graphics lies something altogether more morbid and dark and it is nothing short of excellent.

The game takes place on water with sheep sitting on top of a set of blocky islands. You must rescue them in set numbers by allowing them to leap from one island to another until they reach a raft that takes them to safety. The only issue is the islands have their own capacities and you must work out whether you

"At first, it seems too easy, but then the game starts throwing curve balls by adding new animals and traps"

Above Hurtle the sheep from one island to another in order to get them to the safety of the raft

Above Negotiate the barriers ahead of you need to sacrifice some of the little lambs by drowning them in order to reach the criteria set down to the left of the screen.

At first, it seems too easy but then the game starts to throw some curve balls by adding new animals and some clever traps that make you think strategically. By firing sheep at lasers, for instance, you can slash them in half and piece them back together later. It is glorious fun.

As the play continues, it's hard to tear yourself away. Even when you've restarted a level umpteen times, you feel determined to crack it. For this game is as addictive as they come and you'd be baa-rking mad not to try it.

Apps FIVE STAR AWARD It's a mathematical puzzler that introduces a host of clever twists. An instant classic.

GAMES

TOP 05 apps to...

MAKE YOU ANGRY

01 IMPOSSIBLE ROAD

 Despite having a zen-like minimalist look, this game where you guide a ball along a rollercoaster-like track will soon have you fired up. It's addictive and frustratingly fun.

● iPhone+ | iOS 5.1
| Freemium | v1.2.8
● Android | OS 4.0
| Freemium | v1.2.4

02 SMASH HIT

 Smash glass panels by blasting them with cannon balls might sound easy, but it actually requires concentration and timing as you move through a maze and the obstacles move around you.

● iPhone+ | iOS 6.0
| Freemium | v1.3.4
● Android | OS 2.3
| Freemium | v1.3.4

03 MR JUMP

 Like a modern take on Canabalt, you have to tap the screen at just the right time to help Mr Jump leap crevasses, but also know when to let him fall and the momentum carry him to safety.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0
| Freemium | v2.0.1

04 RETRY

 Very similar to Flappy Bird, but from the makers of Angry Birds, you have to guide a 16-bit biplane through treacherous mazes dodging obstacles by performing hair-raising stunts.

● iPhone+ | iOS 6.0
| Freemium | v1.5.0
● Android | OS 2.3
| Freemium | v1.5.0

05 HYPER SQUARES

 Race against time place all squares into their respective targets. Last long enough to compete on global leaderboards

● iPhone+ | iOS 4.0
| £1.49/$1.99 | v2.1.6

CHANGE WIZARD

 Describing Change Wizard is very difficult and for a good reason. You work behind a register and have to make change for the shoppers by using magic. It sounds completely bizarre because it is, but the end result is an experience which feels refreshing and which will have you thinking much harder than the simple graphics allude to. From the moment you start playing this game, we are certain that you will come back time and time again.

Apps
FIVESTAR AWARD A unique challenging game to make you try harder every go.

● iPhone+ | iOS 6.0
| £1.49/$1.99 | v1.0

ALPHABEAR: WORD PUZZLE

 Alphabear is a cute app and at first glance looks like a children's game, but the gameplay is more suited to adults who enjoy playing word-based puzzlers. As expected, you get more points for longer words and it is good fun, but you are tempted to spend money on in-app purchases quite early on and this increases in severity quite quickly. It's good, but could be less focused on the in-app purchases.

A decent word game, but one that is quite keen on in-app purchases early on.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.1
| Freemium | v01.01.01
● Android | OS 4.0
| Freemium | v01.02.00

HUE BALL

 Hue Ball takes basic ideas from many other arcade games to present what is ultimately an original experience. You have to shoot the bubbles at the ones in the main playing field to succeed and as time progresses, it does get quite hard. The only potential problem is that it can get boring due to a lack of variety so it's not a guaranteed hit for everyone who picks it up.

A relaxing game which you will either love or get bored with very quickly.

● iPhone+ | iOS 6.1
| Freemium | v1
● Android | OS 2.3
| Freemium | v1.2

RIFF THE ROBOT

 The graphics make this game look like a fast-paced arcade shooter, but it actually has some relaxing qualities which will ease the stress. You have to be precise when shooting and understand how to hit the right power ups, but once you get the knack you will have a lot of fun. There are many levels included for free and it feels professional throughout on every single level.

Bubble shooting with a colourful twist. This game is worthy of your attention.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.1
| Freemium | v1.7
● Android | OS 2.3
| Freemium | v1.2

8-BIT WATERSLIDE

 The premise of 8-Bit Waterslide is not original in that you have to jump over obstacles and slide under others, but there is more than enough to keep you coming back. The graphics and sounds are extremely friendly and the pace of the game will keep you hooked from first play. You will have to work hard to succeed and later on it actually gets quite complex, but in a frantic way that really does work.

A fast and furious arcade game with friendly graphics and really great sounds.

● iPhone+ | iOS 7.0
| £0.79/$0.99 | v1.04

STACK HEROES

 Stack Heroes offers everything you could want in a game provided you like a real challenge. You have to adjust where the blocks fall using simple controls and then work out the best way to keep them stood up in the most secure way possible. The achievements add even more challenges and as the speed and height increase, you will find yourself frantically battling multiple challenges at the same time. Very impressive gaming.

Apps
FIVESTAR AWARD Tetris and realistic gravity. That's what Stack Heroes is.

TIP

To pay or not?

Once your free trial runs out, a single-user subscription to Apple Music will cost £9.99/$9.99 a month. There will be a family offer for up to six members that costs just £14.99/$14.99.

DISCOVER APPLE MUSIC'S BEST SIRI COMMANDS

► Put your iPhone's digital personal assistant to good use in Apple's new music streaming service

It's been hard to ignore Apple Music since its worldwide release at the end of June as part of the iOS 8.4 rollout. Public kiss-and-make-up arguments with Taylor Swift over whether her back catalogue would appear on the new music streaming service and widespread celebrity support and backing, mean everyone was desperate to try it out. And we've been mightily impressed so far. Yes, it helps that everyone has a free, fully-featured three-month trial to enjoy before you start any subscription, but Apple Music is packed with many great features.

Among its plethora of features, which include playlist creation, a worldwide radio station that runs 24/7, the ability to connect with your favourite artists and listen to tracks offline, is the ability to use Siri to control Apple Music. You can ask Siri to help with virtually anything - Apple has added some real power and, dare we say it, usefulness, to its much-maligned digital assistant. Siri will now understand commands like "Play the top songs from 1982" or "Add the new Mumford and Sons album to My Music". It can even play the role of Shazam and tell you what you're listening too. When you're out and about or just feeling plain lazy, these types of commands of going to be very handy indeed.

In this tutorial, we'll be taking you through six of our favourite Siri commands, showing you how to use Apple Music more dynamically than you can with just your finger. All that's left to do is hold down your iPhone's Home button for two seconds and activate your digital assistant and get started.

► INSIDE YOUR NEW APPLE MUSIC SERVICE

► What do the tabs at the bottom of the app mean?

For You

The more you use Apple Music you more the app learns your taste in tunes. Find curated playlists based on your taste right here.

New

You get access to over 30 million tracks in Apple Music and more are added every week. Head here to see the most popular, trending releases.

Connect

This is Apple's new music social network that enables you to follow your favourite artists, like and comment on their posts.

My Music

Every time you tap Add to My Music, it ends up here. My Music is split into your Library and Playlists and there's a Recently Added section too.

About the app...

APPLE MUSIC

Stream the entire iTunes library on any Apple device and create your own playlists

• iPhone+ | iOS 8.4 | Free | v1.0

 Giving you access to over 30 million tracks from Apple's iTunes library, Apple Music is the tech giant's first foray into the world of music streaming. From the app you can create your own custom playlists, get personal recommendations with the For You tab, listen to Beats 1 radio 24/7, download and listen to music offline, discover new music and so much more. It's a great alternative to Spotify, Tidal and Google Play Music. Support for Android devices is coming soon too, so it's not a service that's limited to just iDevice users.

Apple's new music streaming service is good enough to take on the established big boys.

"You can ask Siri to help with virtually anything - Apple has added some real power and usefulness to its much-maligned digital assistant"

» APPLE MUSIC > The best Siri commands

1 ONLY THE BEST

You can ask Siri to play the most popular songs from any year. Just say "Play the top songs from 1995" and Siri will queue up the 25 highest ranking songs to your Up Next list.

4 SHAZAM

Not sure what track you're listening too and don't want to touch your phone to find out? Simply ask Siri "What am I listening to?" and it will respond out loud immediately.

2 UP NEXT

Siri can also help you add individual tracks to your Up Next queue. Ask Siri "After this song play Slow Hands by Interpol" and it will automatically play it next. Impressive, right?

5 ADD TO MY MUSIC

If there's an album that you want adding to the My Music section, just load up Siri and say "Add Definitely Maybe to My Music". By the time you press the Home button it's done.

3 MORE PLEASE

If you're liking the song you're currently listening to, ask Siri to "Play more like this". Siri will get back to you and queue up 50 songs that it thinks you'll like based on your history.

6 SHUFFLE

Listening to a track from an artist and want to hear some more? All you need to do is tell Siri to "Shuffle Taylor Swift" and you'll get a selection of her tracks ready to enjoy.

DAVINCI RESOLVE 12

Now you can switch to the world's best editing software for free!

Only DaVinci Resolve 12 combines professional editing with advanced color correction so you can edit and grade from start to finish, all in one single software tool! With over 80 incredible new features including multicam editing, advanced trimming, high performance audio, and incredible media management, DaVinci Resolve 12 is the editing solution you've been waiting for.

Super Fast Editing

DaVinci Resolve 12 has a massive set of professional editing and trimming tools that work exactly as you expect. You get context sensitive editing, dynamic and asymmetric trimming, titling, transitions, animation and more! The familiar multitrack timeline, customizable interface and keyboard shortcuts make it easy to switch to DaVinci Resolve 12.

Incredible Multicam

No matter how many cameras you have on your shoot, DaVinci Resolve 12 lets you edit programs shot on multiple cameras faster than ever before. Quickly sync angles using timecode, in/out points, or even automatically based on sound and then watch them all play back in real time while you cut between angles on the fly!

Unlimited Audio Effects

Now you can create the perfect mix by adding VST and Audio Unit plugins to entire tracks or individual clips! Resolve's sample accurate playback and smooth tape style scrubbing let you precisely edit audio in the timeline, or you can record fader automation using the new mixer! You can even export directly to ProTools for finishing!

Hollywood's Best Color

DaVinci is the world's most trusted name in color and has been used to grade more Hollywood films, TV shows, and commercials than anything else. Now you can switch between professional editing and Resolve's legendary color tools with a single click. DaVinci Resolve 12 goes far beyond anything you'll find in any other editing systems!
